RHUB releases TurboMeeting 3.0 Web Conferencing solution for Macintosh

Santa Clara, CA, April 11, 2007 — RHUB Communications, Inc., provider of the advanced Web conferencing solution, TurboMeeting, announced the release of version 3.0 with support for Apple Macintosh computers. The Mac client supports full interaction with PCs and provides the same color resolution control, key for many image oriented collaboration applications and net meetings where dense image data is shared.

The Mac TurboMeeting 3.0 client provides support for Apple OS X 10.4 and above and both the PPC and Intel platforms.

New Features include:

- Application sharing
- Color resolution control
- Chat

TurboMeeting for Mac is now available in the RHUB on-premise, secure, appliance family. RHUB sells its appliances through the telephony and data reseller channel. Reseller inquires are invited.
